Autumn is in the air

It is at this point in the year that we begin to turn our attention to the seasonal changes all around us. Most of the vegetables have been harvested in the Junior School vegetable plot, and our most impressive giant acanthium (thistle to you and me) has suddenly lost its colour. Harvest is in the forefront of our minds too in the Junior School as we start to think ahead to our annual Harvest Festival on 5th October. A letter from Mr Cothey will be coming out soon, asking for your donations of non-perishable goods, all of which are gifted to the Wolverhampton food bank after the event. With the passing of the Autumn Equinox, and the nights starting to draw in, you will notice soon that the children will be remaining indoors after homework club. Please do take this opportunity to note down our late club number should you wish to contact us after 5:00pm for any reason.

Junior School News

Well done to a number of Year 6 children who have already been selected to participate in Under 12 (Senior School) matches. Congratulations to Bella Evans, Leah Thakur, Ava Wainwright, Isabelle Mason, Rachel Hamilton-Russell and Lily Davies for being selected for tomorrow's Hockey fixture against Ellesemere. Well done to Tom Hathaway and Tommy Cox for being picked for an U12 football fixture last week, too.

Congratulations to Keatan Soori for achieving his yellow belt in Freestyle Kickboxing Mixed Martial Arts. Well done too to Tommy Pruggmayer for obtaining the first commendation of the year for some 'simply sensational' trumpet playing. Two more 3Cs certificates (Care, Courtesy, & Consideration) were also handed out to Joseph Bishop and Harry Negrine for acts of selflessness.

Charity Assembly

It was pleasing to see so many children ready and willing to present to their peers on Monday. Some had prepared impressive presentations, whilst others talked unaided and had clearly put much work into the occasion. Once more, it was thoroughly heart-warming to see so many children that have only just started at the Junior School feeling confident enough to stand up in front of an audience of over 150 in order to push their cause.

Finally...

Soon, we will be inviting parents to a new-look Parents' Evening. The session will consist of appointments with English and Maths teachers in order to set targets for improvement and development. This should help children achieve and exceed their potential in these two important subjects. Your thoughts on this proposed new format are most welcome.
